

Introduction of RPF

The Railway Protection Force (RPF) is a security force, established by the Railway Protection Force Act, 1957, enacted by the Indian Parliament for "the better protection and security of railway property.

In a span of 05 decades, since 1957, the Force has indeed evolved into a highly structured and disciplined force of Union of India. RPF personnel have unfailingly risen to the Occasion whenever called upon to do so, be it providing security to rail users, relief during disasters, VIP security duties, or manning the Security of Railway and its passengers, vital installations in the sensitive/insurgent area. Railway Protection Force personnel have proved their mettle in all assigned duties and the professionalism displayed by its officers and men have always been of high order.