The issue raised in your above referred letters on the above cited subject has been examined in Board's office in consultation with Establishment (Non-Gazetted) Directorate. It is advised that in a normal system, the persons who pass in an earlier examination/panel, are placed above those who pass/empanelled subsequently. Therefore, if two panels are formed, the persons in earlier panel will rank senior. However, if the second examination is a supplementary to the first examination, then there will be one panel, where the seniority will be as per the marks obtained.

2. The GM should ensure that the above procedure is followed uniformly in all the divisions under their jurisdiction.
